

PART G DSM Calling Script

Every standby and GO placed on the licensed script pages, for all 83 cues, the ten songs and the show-stop procedures.

Revision R13.1 · 28 September 2026

PART G · R13.1 · SCRIPT-LOCKED · 28 September 2026

DSM Calling Script

The Little Mermaid by Nick Lawrence · Plantagenet Hall · one GO fires everything

| Row               | Meaning                                                                                                                                                                               |
|-------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Amber      | Standby: give it on the page and words shown. Wait for every department to answer “Standing by”.                                                                                      |
| Green      | GO: say “GO” exactly on the words or action shown.                                                                                                                                    |
| Blue       | Song: straight after its cue the QLab operator starts the song; section GOs follow the music (the DSM can delegate them).                                                             |
| Coral edge | Critical cue: flash, storm, water or transformation.                                                                                                                                  |
| Pages      | Pages of the licensed script as supplied (Nick Lawrence Pantomimes, revised April 2026, 55 pp, “Page N of 55” footer). If your printed copy paginates differently, call on the words. |

CALLS TO KNOW

Q57b — restore Ariel: called on Ariel's entrance after the haywire (Q57). It fires the white restore hit, stops the HAYWIRE chase and puts SP1 on Ariel.

Flash returns are automatic (Q21, Q23, Q25, Q35, Q47, Q57b): call one GO per flash; the light comes back by itself.

Songs each have section GOs (S1.2, S1.3 ...). Agree at the paper tech whether the DSM calls them or the QLab operator takes them to the music.

Fades: songs fade and stop on the next scene cue (Q9, Q15, Q15.5, Q19, Q41, Q52) — no separate call.

ONE OPERATOR

Call “Standby QLab 20” ... “QLab 20 — GO” to the show operator, who presses GO; QLab fires the Mantra cue with the sound and video. If QLab fails the operator runs lighting from the matching Mantra scene memory (P2 Act One / P3 Act Two / P4 songs).

1 Pre-show, interval and end-of-show calls

| When                             | What the DSM says / does                                                                                         |
|----------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Half-hour (35 min before) | “Good evening company, this is your half-hour call. Half an hour, please. The house is not yet open.”            |
| House open (FOH confirms) | “Company, the house is now open. Please keep the stage and wings clear and quiet.” · QLab 1 — house state, BG-01 |
| Quarter-hour (20 min)     | “Company, this is your quarter-hour call. Fifteen minutes, please.”                                              |
| Five minutes (10 min)     | “Company, this is your five-minute call. Five minutes, please.”                                                  |
| Beginners (5 min)         | “Act One beginners to the stage, please: Spirit, Octavia, Flanders and opening ensemble.”                        |
| Department check          | “All departments, report ready.” — QLab/LX, Sound, FX, Deck each answer “Ready”; FOH gives clearance.            |
| Go for show               | “Standby house lights out, QLab 4, FX HZ-01 ... House lights out ... QLab 4 — GO.”                               |
| Interval (tabs in at Q37) | “Thank you company, that's the interval. Twenty minutes, please.” · QLab 38 interval music, BG-16                |
| Interval +10 / +15        | “Ten minutes to Act Two.” Deck reports reset done. “Act Two beginners: palace ensemble, Evan, Willis.”           |
| Act Two                   | “Standby house lights out, QLab 39 ... QLab 39 — GO.”                                                            |
| Bows (Q64)                | Hold the bows call until the final line lands; watch the line-up.                                                |
| End (Q65)                 | “QLab 65 — GO.” House up via FOH. “Thank you company and crew, that's the show.”                                 |

2 Calling sequence

PRE-SHOW · cues 1 to 3

Group standby: “Standby QLab, FX for cues 1 to 3, please.”

| Q        | Page | Standby at / GO on         | DSM calls                  | Depts   | What happens                           |
|----------|------|----------------------------|----------------------------|---------|----------------------------------------|
| 1 | —    | FOH manager: house opening | “Standby QLab 1, FX”       | QLAB FX | Preshow state, house music, BG-01 low  |
|          | —    | House opens                | “ QLab 1, FX — GO ” |         |                                        |
| 2 | —    | with Q1                    | “Standby QLab 2”           | QLAB    | Preshow music                          |
|          | —    | Audience admitted          | “ QLab 2 — GO ”     |         |                                        |
| 3 | —    | Beginners called           | “Standby QLab 3, FX”       | QLAB FX | Fade house music toward standby; HZ-01 |
|          | —    | Places                     | “ QLab 3, FX — GO ” |         |                                        |

PROLOGUE — BENEATH THE WAVES pp 6–7 • cues 4 to 8

Group standby: “Standby QLab, FX for cues 4 to 8, please.”

| Q  | Page | Standby at / GO on                                               | DSM calls                                     | Depts   | What happens                                                                                                                                     |
|----|------|------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 4  | —    | FOH clearance received                                           | “Standby QLab 4, FX”                          | QLAB FX | House out; underwater; ocean bed; BG-02 — Q4 and Q5 are called as a pair                                                                  |
|    | p 6  | FOH clearance — house out                                        | “QLab 4, FX — GO”                             |         |                                                                                                                                                  |
| 5  | p 6  | with Q4                                                          | “Standby QLab 5”                              | QLAB    | Magical sound; SPIRIT enters                                                                                                                     |
|    | p 6  | House out complete (visual)                                      | “QLab 5 — GO”                                 |         |                                                                                                                                                  |
| 6  | p 6  | “Her trident holds power...”                                     | “Standby QLab 6”                              | QLAB    | Evil chord; OCTAVIA enters; audience boo                                                                                                         |
|    | p 6  | “...wants it for her own.”                                       | “QLab 6 — GO”                                 |         |                                                                                                                                                  |
| 7  | p 6  | “Now off you go, go back to your lair.”                          | “Standby QLab 7”                              | QLAB    | Evil chord; OCTAVIA exits laughing                                                                                                               |
|    | p 6  | “...the last you’ve heard of me!”                                | “QLab 7 — GO”                                 |         |                                                                                                                                                  |
| 8  | p 7  | “I wish I could say, that was just a phase,”                     | “Standby QLab 8”                              | QLAB    | SPIRIT exits; opening number — S1 Rock Lobster follows (BG-22) — S1 starts straight after Q8                                              |
|    | p 7  | “...and try not to get wet!”                                     | “QLab 8 — GO”                                 |         |                                                                                                                                                  |
| S1 |      | Straight after Q8: the track and S1.1 start on the operator’s GO | “QLab S1 — GO”, then section GOs to the music | QLab    | Rock Lobster — 7 GOs: S1.1 Intro · S1.2 Verse · S1.3 Chorus · S1.4 Going deep (break) · S1.5 Build back · S1.6 Final chorus · S1.7 Button |

SCENE ONE — BENEATH THE WAVES pp 8–12 • cues 9 to 12

Group standby: “Standby QLab, FX for cues 9 to 12, please.”

| Q  | Page | Standby at / GO on                                   | DSM calls            | Depts   | What happens                                                                           |
|----|------|------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|---------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 9  | p 8  | “They’re not great material for the ocean either!”   | “Standby QLab 9, FX” | QLAB FX | THEODORE enters; Rock Lobster fades out; BG-17 reef                                    |
|    | p 8  | FLANDERS: “Touché.”                                  | “QLab 9, FX — GO”    |         |                                                                                        |
| 10 | p 9  | “Many years ago, the Queen’s parents...”             | “Standby QLab 10”    | QLAB    | Fanfare; QUEEN MARINA enters                                                           |
|    | p 9  | “...not their biggest fin.”                          | “QLab 10 — GO”       |         |                                                                                        |
| 11 | p 11 | “But don’t you ever wonder what it’s like up there?” | “Standby QLab 11”    | QLAB    | ARIEL runs off, upset                                                                  |
|    | p 12 | “...not even trying to understand me.”               | “QLab 11 — GO”       |         |                                                                                        |
| 12 | p 12 | “I’ll go after her, shall I?”                        | “Standby QLab 12”    | QLAB    | End Scene One; Scene Two in front of tabs; DAME enters — Tabs close on this cue |
|    | p 12 | THEO exits — TABS CLOSE                              | “QLab 12 — GO”       |         |                                                                                        |

SCENE TWO — THE SINGING LESSON pp 13–18 • cues 13 to 17

Group standby: “Standby QLab, LX, DECK, FOH for cues 13 to 17, please.”

| Q    | Page | Standby at / GO on                                                | DSM calls                                     | Depts    | What happens                                                                                                                                                  |
|------|------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|----------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 13   | p 13 | “Now, I wonder if there are any singing sensations...”            | “Standby QLab 13, FOH”                        | QLAB FOH | House lights come up                                                                                                                                          |
|      | p 13 | “...shall we have a look at you?”                                 | “QLab 13, FOH — GO”                           |          |                                                                                                                                                               |
| 14   | p 14 | “Oh, (NAME OF MAN), that’s a lovely name!”                        | “Standby QLab 14”                             | QLAB     | Song: Dame Beluga — S2 Feeling Good follows — House back down                                                                                          |
|      | p 14 | “...I’m going to do it anyway!”                                   | “QLab 14 — GO”                                |          |                                                                                                                                                               |
| S2   |      | Straight after Q14: the track and S2.1 start on the operator’s GO | “QLab S2 — GO”, then section GOs to the music | QLab     | Feeling Good (Austin Millz Remix) — 6 GOs: S2.1 Intro (voice) · S2.2 Build · S2.3 Drop · S2.4 Verse · S2.5 Drop 2 · S2.6 Button                        |
| 15   | p 15 | “The AUDIENCE reply ‘From the Top!’”                              | “Standby QLab 15”                             | QLAB     | Song: Ariel — S3 Part of Your World follows                                                                                                                   |
|      | p 16 | ARIEL: “Ok, how about this one...”                                | “QLab 15 — GO”                                |          |                                                                                                                                                               |
| S3   |      | Straight after Q15: the track and S3.1 start on the operator’s GO | “QLab S3 — GO”, then section GOs to the music | QLab     | Part of Your World — 7 GOs: S3.1 Intro · S3.2 Verse · S3.3 Chorus: looking up · S3.4 Verse 2 · S3.5 Bridge: sunlight · S3.6 Final chorus · S3.7 Ending |
| 15.5 | p 16 | Song ends                                                         | “Standby LX 15.5”                             | LX       | Lighting shifts; Ariel looks up (ship above); song fades                                                                                                      |
|      | p 16 | FLANDERS: “That was incredible.”                                  | “LX 15.5 — GO”                                |          |                                                                                                                                                               |

| Q    | Page | Standby at / GO on                            | DSM calls               | Depts        | What happens                                        |
|------|------|-----------------------------------------------|-------------------------|--------------|-----------------------------------------------------|
| 16   | p 16 | "Oh dear. I've got a bad feeling about this." | "Standby QLab 16"       | QLAB         | Evil chord; OCTAVIA emerges                         |
|      | p 16 | FLANDERS exits after her                      | "QLab 16 — GO"          |              |                                                     |
| 16.5 | p 17 | "You can control the weather?"                | "Standby LX 16.5, QLab" | LX QLAB      | Octavia raises her arms; the lighting churns; BG-04 |
|      | p 17 | "...this is going to be spectacular!"         | "LX 16.5, QLab — GO"    |              |                                                     |
| 17   | p 17 | "Will you stop going on about superheroes..." | "Standby QLab 17, Deck" | QLABDECK | Evil chord, lights swirl — BLACKOUT                 |
|      | p 17 | "...then you will be 'Thore!'"                | "QLab 17, Deck — GO"    |              |                                                     |

SCENE THREE — ABOARD THE SHIP pp 19–23 • cues 18 to 27.5

Group standby: "Standby QLab, LX, FX, DECK for cues 18 to 27.5, please."

| Q    | Page | Standby at / GO on                                                | DSM calls                                     | Depts           | What happens                                                                                                                                                  |
|------|------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|-----------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 18   | p 18 | In the blackout                                                   | "Standby QLab 18"                             | QLAB            | Ship deck (BG-05); song — S4 Wellerman follows                                                                                                                |
|      | p 19 | Deck: "Clear"                                                     | "QLab 18 — GO"                                |                 |                                                                                                                                                               |
| S4   |      | Straight after Q18: the track and S4.1 start on the operator's GO | "QLab S4 — GO", then section GOs to the music | QLab            | Wellerman (Sea Shanty) — 7 GOs: S4.1 Intro (solo voice) · S4.2 Verse · S4.3 Chorus · S4.4 Verse 2 · S4.5 Stamp chorus · S4.6 Last chorus · S4.7 Button |
| 19   | p 20 | "Now, I want a weather report."                                   | "Standby QLab 19, FX"                         | QLAB FX         | Stage brightly lit; BG-06 sunny; Wellerman fades                                                                                                              |
|      | p 20 | SAILOR: "The weather will be sunny."                              | "QLab 19, FX — GO"                            |                 |                                                                                                                                                               |
| 19.1 | p 20 | with Q19                                                          | "Standby QLab 19.1"                           | QLAB            | Fart sound                                                                                                                                                    |
|      | p 20 | SAILOR: "With gusts of wind"                                      | "QLab 19.1 — GO"                              |                 |                                                                                                                                                               |
| 19.2 | p 20 | with Q19                                                          | "Standby QLab 19.2, FX, Deck"                 | QLAB FXDECK | Rain burst SFX; water pistols spray the audience — Audience gets wet — R-23                                                                            |
|      | p 20 | SAILOR: "And periodic rain."                                      | "QLab 19.2, FX, Deck — GO"                    |                 |                                                                                                                                                               |
| 19.3 | p 20 | with Q19                                                          | "Standby LX 19.3"                             | LX              | Lights return to normal; back to BG-05                                                                                                                        |
|      | p 20 | Pistols stop (visual)                                             | "LX 19.3 — GO"                                |                 |                                                                                                                                                               |
| 20   | p 21 | "I don't know why father wants me to marry..."                    | "Standby QLab 20, FX"                         | QLAB FX         | Storm starts: wind and rain, BG-07; HZ-04                                                                                                                     |
|      | p 21 | EVAN: "Don't start that again."                                   | "QLab 20, FX — GO"                            |                 |                                                                                                                                                               |
| 21   | p 21 | with Q20                                                          | "Standby QLab 21"                             | QLAB            | First lightning flash — returns by itself — Call straight after Q20                                                                                    |
|      | p 21 | "...lightning flashes" (a beat after Q20)                         | "QLab 21 — GO"                                |                 |                                                                                                                                                               |
| 22   | p 21 | "What was that?"                                                  | "Standby QLab 22"                             | QLAB            | Thunder again, stronger; ship creaks                                                                                                                          |
|      | p 21 | "It's just a bit of thunder and lightning."                       | "QLab 22 — GO"                                |                 |                                                                                                                                                               |
| 23   | p 21 | "There it is again! I said the sea was too calm!"                 | "Standby QLab 23"                             | QLAB            | Major lightning — returns by itself                                                                                                                           |
|      | p 22 | "...shouting 'I told you so!'"                                    | "QLab 23 — GO"                                |                 |                                                                                                                                                               |
| 24   | p 22 | with Q23                                                          | "Standby QLab 24, FX"                         | QLAB FX         | Ship lurches; groan + water impact — Water spray only if approved                                                                                      |
|      | p 22 | The ship lurches (visual)                                         | "QLab 24, FX — GO"                            |                 |                                                                                                                                                               |
| 25   | p 22 | It thunders again                                                 | "Standby QLab 25, FX"                         | QLAB FX         | Storm crescendos; peak flash; HZ-05                                                                                                                           |
|      | p 22 | WILLIS: "Nature is shouting quite loudly, sir!"                   | "QLab 25, FX — GO"                            |                 |                                                                                                                                                               |
| 26   | p 22 | with Q25                                                          | "Standby QLab 26"                             | QLAB            | Splash; low water bed                                                                                                                                         |
|      | p 22 | EVAN thrown overboard (visual)                                    | "QLab 26 — GO"                                |                 |                                                                                                                                                               |
| 27   | p 22 | "It's a good job I'm wearing this lifejacket."                    | "Standby QLab 27, FX"                         | QLAB FX         | The storm stops; BG-21 clears; HZ-06 off                                                                                                                      |
|      | p 22 | "...I think the storm is stopping."                               | "QLab 27, FX — GO"                            |                 |                                                                                                                                                               |
| 27.5 | p 23 | "Ladder, Salt, Catfish, Storm."                                   | "Standby LX 27.5, QLab, Deck"                 | LX QLABDECK | TABS CLOSE — end Scene Three                                                                                                                                  |
|      | p 23 | "Then it's still my royal prerogative."                           | "LX 27.5, QLab, Deck — GO"                    |                 |                                                                                                                                                               |

SCENE FOUR — THE SHORE pp 24–26 • cues 28 to 30.5

Group standby: “Standby QLab, LX, DECK for cues 28 to 30.5, please.”

| Q    | Page | Standby at / GO on                                                | DSM calls                                     | Depts           | What happens                                                                                                                                                               |
|------|------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|-----------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 28   | p 23 | Tabs in                                                           | “Standby QLab 28”                             | QLAB            | Magical sound; SPIRIT appears; shore (BG-08)                                                                                                                               |
|      | p 24 | Deck: “Clear”                                                     | “QLab 28 — GO”                                |                 |                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 28.5 | p 24 | “Ariel kept him safe from a very watery grave.”                   | “Standby LX 28.5, QLab”                       | LX QLAB         | Magical sound; SPIRIT disappears                                                                                                                                           |
|      | p 24 | “...next for this prince and princess.”                           | “LX 28.5, QLab — GO”                          |                 |                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 29   | p 24 | “I’ll just go and...”                                             | “Standby QLab 29”                             | QLAB            | Evan stirs and opens his eyes                                                                                                                                              |
|      | p 24 | FLANDERS exits                                                    | “QLab 29 — GO”                                |                 |                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 30   | p 25 | “What’s it like, down there?”                                     | “Standby QLab 30”                             | QLAB            | Song: Ariel & Evan — S5 Time of My Life follows                                                                                                                            |
|      | p 25 | EVAN: “No one else is... but I am.”                               | “QLab 30 — GO”                                |                 |                                                                                                                                                                            |
| S5   |      | Straight after Q30: the track and S5.1 start on the operator’s GO | “QLab S5 — GO”, then section GOs to the music | QLab            | (I’ve Had) The Time of My Life — 8 GOs: S5.1 Intro · S5.2 Verse · S5.3 Pre-chorus build · S5.4 Chorus · S5.5 Dance break · S5.6 The lift · S5.7 Final chorus · S5.8 Button |
| 30.5 | p 26 | “It all sounds very sus-fish-ious to me!”                         | “Standby LX 30.5, QLab, Deck”                 | LX QLABDECK | BLACKOUT — end Scene Four; song fades                                                                                                                                      |
|      | p 26 | Evan and Willis follow off                                        | “LX 30.5, QLab, Deck — GO”                    |                 |                                                                                                                                                                            |

SCENE FIVE — THE BARGAIN pp 27–33 • cues 31 to 37

Group standby: “Standby QLab, LX, FX, DECK for cues 31 to 37, please.”

| Q    | Page | Standby at / GO on                                  | DSM calls               | Depts        | What happens                                          |
|------|------|-----------------------------------------------------|-------------------------|--------------|-------------------------------------------------------|
| 31   | p 26 | In the blackout                                     | “Standby QLab 31”       | QLAB         | Back underwater (BG-02 B); bar ambience               |
|      | p 27 | Deck: “Clear”                                       | “QLab 31 — GO”          |              |                                                       |
| 32   | p 29 | “Ariel, you are my daughter.”                       | “Standby QLab 32”       | QLAB         | Evil chord; OCTAVIA enters with SLIP and SLAP         |
|      | p 29 | DAME: “...superb vocal timbre.”                     | “QLab 32 — GO”          |              |                                                       |
| 33   | p 30 | “Now, do we have a deal?”                           | “Standby QLab 33, FX”   | QLAB FX      | Transformation standby; BG-09; HZ-07                  |
|      | p 30 | OCTAVIA presents her hand                           | “QLab 33, FX — GO”      |              |                                                       |
| 34   | p 30 | “What do you think, should I make the deal?”        | “Standby QLab 34, FX”   | QLAB FX      | They shake; transformation builds; music swells       |
|      | p 30 | ARIEL: “Ok, I’ll do it!”                            | “QLab 34, FX — GO”      |              |                                                       |
| 35   | p 30 | with Q34                                            | “Standby QLab 35”       | QLAB         | White hit, returns by itself; transformation complete |
|      | p 31 | Music peaks; Ariel stands on her legs (visual)      | “QLab 35 — GO”          |              |                                                       |
| 36   | p 31 | “I knew you’d like them... and now for your voice.” | “Standby QLab 36”       | QLAB         | Magical sound; light travels from Ariel to the shell  |
|      | p 31 | “Oh Beluga, stop your wailing!”                     | “QLab 36 — GO”          |              |                                                       |
| 36.5 | p 32 | “You lot wouldn’t know a happy ending...”           | “Standby LX 36.5, QLab” | LX QLAB      | Evil chord; Octavia exits; court enters (BG-02)       |
|      | p 32 | “...evil plans don’t make themselves!”              | “LX 36.5, QLab — GO”    |              |                                                       |
| 36.7 | p 32 | “Oh, I give up.”                                    | “Standby LX 36.7, QLab” | LX QLAB      | Magical sound; SPIRIT enters                          |
|      | p 32 | Theodore panics — after a moment (visual)           | “LX 36.7, QLab — GO”    |              |                                                       |
| 37   | p 33 | “So here is the task, and there’s much to be done,” | “Standby QLab 37, Deck” | QLABDECK | TABS CLOSE — END OF ACT ONE                           |
|      | p 33 | “Find Ariel quickly, she needs those who care.”     | “QLab 37, Deck — GO”    |              |                                                       |

INTERVAL • cues 38 to 38

Group standby: “Standby QLab, FOH for cues 38 to 38, please.”

| Q  | Page | Standby at / GO on   | DSM calls              | Depts | What happens                    |
|----|------|----------------------|------------------------|-------|---------------------------------|
| 38 | —    | Tabs in, stage clear | “Standby QLab 38, FOH” | QLAB  | House up; interval music; BG-16 |
|    | —    | Stage clear          | “QLab 38, FOH — GO”    | FOH   |                                 |

SCENE SIX — THE ROYAL PALACE pp 34–39 • cues 39 to 44

Group standby: “Standby QLab, LX, FX, DECK for cues 39 to 44, please.”

| Q    | Page | Standby at / GO on                                                | DSM calls                                     | Depts     | What happens                                                                                                              |
|------|------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|-----------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 39   | —    | Act Two beginners                                                 | “Standby QLab 39, FX”                         | QLAB FX   | Royal palace; BG-18 ballroom; haze off — Q39 and Q40 are a pair                                                    |
|      | p 34 | FOH clearance — house out                                         | “QLab 39, FX — GO”                     |           |                                                                                                                           |
| 40   | p 34 | with Q39                                                          | “Standby QLab 40”                             | QLAB      | Song: Evan, Willis, Ensemble — S6 Crab Rave follows (BG-23)                                                               |
|      | p 34 | Palace revealed (visual)                                          | “QLab 40 — GO”                         |           |                                                                                                                           |
| S6   |      | Straight after Q40: the track and S6.1 start on the operator's GO | “QLab S6 — GO”, then section GOs to the music | QLab      | Crab Rave — 7 GOs: S6.1 Intro · S6.2 Build · S6.3 Drop · S6.4 Breakdown · S6.5 Build 2 · S6.6 Drop 2 · S6.7 Button |
| 41   | p 34 | Song ending                                                       | “Standby QLab 41”                             | QLAB      | Quiet memory beat; back to BG-18; Crab Rave fades                                                                         |
|      | p 34 | Song ends — EVAN enters, lost in thought                          | “QLab 41 — GO”                         |           |                                                                                                                           |
| 42   | p 36 | “If she was, she would have told us already!”                     | “Standby QLab 42”                             | QLAB      | Evil chord; OCTAVIA enters                                                                                                |
|      | p 36 | “...we need to talk with our guests.”                             | “QLab 42 — GO”                         |           |                                                                                                                           |
| 42.5 | p 36 | “...let's put this voice to good use, shall we.”                  | “Standby LX 42.5, QLab”                       | LX QLAB   | Octavia sings a line in Ariel's voice — Playback (placeholder) or offstage mic — decide                            |
|      | p 36 | Octavia holds up the shell                                        | “LX 42.5, QLab — GO”                   |           |                                                                                                                           |
| 43   | p 37 | “Ariel turns over the cards...”                                   | “Standby QLab 43”                             | QLAB      | Cue-card underscore starts                                                                                                |
|      | p 37 | EVAN: “Its Coral singers.”                                        | “QLab 43 — GO”                         |           |                                                                                                                           |
| 44   | p 38 | “What's with the cards? What are they all about?”                 | “Standby QLab 44, Deck”                       | QLAB DECK | BLACKOUT — end Scene Six                                                                                                  |
|      | p 38 | Final card: “They're about LOVE, ACTUALLY”                        | “QLab 44, Deck — GO”                   |           |                                                                                                                           |

SCENE SEVEN — BENEATH THE WAVES pp 40–42 • cues 45 to 49

Group standby: “Standby QLab, LX, DECK for cues 45 to 49, please.”

| Q    | Page | Standby at / GO on                                                | DSM calls                                     | Depts     | What happens                                                                                                                       |
|------|------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|-----------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 45   | p 38 | In the blackout                                                   | “Standby QLab 45”                             | QLAB      | DAME enters with a cue card; BG-11 — In front of tabs                                                                       |
|      | p 39 | Deck: “Clear”                                                     | “QLab 45 — GO”                         |           |                                                                                                                                    |
| 45.5 | p 40 | “Now let's get going, or we might be stung...”                    | “Standby LX 45.5, Deck”                       | LX DECK   | CURTAINS SLOWLY OPEN — jellyfish scene                                                                                             |
|      | p 40 | MARINA: “Not that kind of sting.”                                 | “LX 45.5, Deck — GO”                   |           |                                                                                                                                    |
| 46   | p 41 | “...shall we just do a short chorus instead?”                     | “Standby QLab 46”                             | QLAB      | Short chorus — S7 follows (song still to choose)                                                                                   |
|      | p 41 | MARINA: “Agreed. After four... Four!”                             | “QLab 46 — GO”                         |           |                                                                                                                                    |
| S7   |      | Straight after Q46: the track and S7.1 start on the operator's GO | “QLab S7 — GO”, then section GOs to the music | QLab      | Jellyfish chorus (song to be decided) — 4 GOs: S7.1 Count-in (“Four!”) · S7.2 Chorus · S7.3 Jellyfish appears · S7.4 Button |
| 47   | p 41 | “Come on, let's keep singing.”                                    | “Standby QLab 47”                             | QLAB      | Jellyfish sting; cyan pulse returns by itself — Manual repeats: P5 M6                                                       |
|      | p 41 | They sing again (pp 40–41, repeats)                               | “QLab 47 — GO”                         |           |                                                                                                                                    |
| 48   | p 42 | “Oh dear, I think the Jellyfish had a wobble!”                    | “Standby QLab 48”                             | QLAB      | Magical sound; SPIRIT enters                                                                                                       |
|      | p 42 | DAME exits                                                        | “QLab 48 — GO”                         |           |                                                                                                                                    |
| 49   | p 42 | “The shell cannot hold what was never hers to take,”              | “Standby QLab 49, Deck”                       | QLAB DECK | Spirit exits — BLACKOUT                                                                                                            |
|      | p 42 | “...for Ariel's sake.”                                            | “QLab 49, Deck — GO”                   |           |                                                                                                                                    |

SCENE EIGHT — OCTAVIA'S LAIR pp 43–47 • cues 50 to 58.5

Group standby: “Standby QLab, LX, FX, DECK for cues 50 to 58.5, please.”

| Q  | Page | Standby at / GO on | DSM calls                 | Depts   | What happens                                                                |
|----|------|--------------------|---------------------------|---------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 50 | p 42 | In the blackout    | “Standby QLab 50, FX”     | QLAB FX | Lair (BG-19); shell on plinth in SP4; HZ-08 — Q50 and Q51 are a pair |
|    | p 42 | Deck: “Clear”      | “QLab 50, FX — GO” |         |                                                                             |

| Q    | Page | Standby at / GO on                                                | DSM calls                                     | Depts        | What happens                                                                                                                                  |
|------|------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|--------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 51   | p 42 | with Q50                                                          | "Standby QLab 51"                             | QLAB         | Song: Octavia and Ensemble — S8 Poor Unfortunate Souls follows                                                                                |
|      | p 42 | Lair revealed (visual)                                            | "QLab 51 — GO"                         |              |                                                                                                                                               |
| S8   |      | Straight after Q51: the track and S8.1 start on the operator's GO | "QLab S8 — GO", then section GOs to the music | QLab         | Poor Unfortunate Souls — 7 GOs: S8.1 Intro · S8.2 Verse · S8.3 Chorus · S8.4 Bargain (spoken) · S8.5 Build · S8.6 Climax · S8.7 Button |
| 52   | p 44 | "Can't be too hard, now let me see..."                            | "Standby QLab 52"                             | QLAB         | Shell magic; BG-09; song fades                                                                                                                |
|      | p 44 | DAME: "Aha!" (opens the shell)                                    | "QLab 52 — GO"                         |              | — ≤3 flashes a second (R-04)                                                                                                                  |
| 53   | p 44 | "What's going on?"                                                | "Standby QLab 53"                             | QLAB         | Shell spot off; spot on DAME                                                                                                                  |
|      | p 44 | "...we're at Eve Late Night Bar."                                 | "QLab 53 — GO"                         |              |                                                                                                                                               |
| 54   | p 45 | "Stop that, immediately, or I'll stop it for you!"                | "Standby QLab 54"                             | QLAB         | Spot moves to FLANDERS                                                                                                                        |
|      | p 45 | "Give my daughter's voice back. Now" (shakes Dame)                | "QLab 54 — GO"                         |              |                                                                                                                                               |
| 55   | p 45 | "Oh no, you're not getting the voice either."                     | "Standby QLab 55"                             | QLAB         | Spot moves to THEODORE                                                                                                                        |
|      | p 45 | THEO: "...Her Majesty's Most Loyal Hermit..."                     | "QLab 55 — GO"                         |              |                                                                                                                                               |
| 56   | p 45 | "Now you've got Ariel's voice!"                                   | "Standby QLab 56"                             | QLAB         | Spot moves to MARINA — Marina gets a man's voice (offstage)                                                                            |
|      | p 45 | "...I didn't mean to get it."                                     | "QLab 56 — GO"                         |              |                                                                                                                                               |
| 57   | p 46 | "Whose voice is it?"                                              | "Standby QLab 57, FX"                         | QLAB FX      | Lights go haywire (HAYWIRE chase); magic sequence; HZ-09                                                                                      |
|      | p 46 | THEO: "Give it to me!"                                            | "QLab 57, FX — GO"                     |              |                                                                                                                                               |
| 57b  | p 46 | with Q57                                                          | "Standby QLab 57b"                            | QLAB         | Restore hit, HAYWIRE off, SP1 on Ariel; restore SFX                                                                                           |
|      | p 46 | ARIEL enters — voice restored (visual)                            | "QLab 57b — GO"                        |              |                                                                                                                                               |
| 58   | p 47 | "No, but this lot will!"                                          | "Standby QLab 58, FX"                         | QLAB FX      | Water-pistol cross-fire; chase music; everyone exits — See R-23                                                                        |
|      | p 47 | DAME: "Run!"                                                      | "QLab 58, FX — GO"                     |              |                                                                                                                                               |
| 58.5 | p 47 | with Q58                                                          | "Standby LX 58.5, QLab, Deck"                 | LX QLAB DECK | TABS CLOSE — end Scene Eight                                                                                                                  |
|      | p 47 | Stage clear (visual)                                              | "LX 58.5, QLab, Deck — GO"             |              |                                                                                                                                               |

SCENE NINE — BACK ON DRY LAND pp 48–50 • cues 59 to 59.7

Group standby: "Standby QLab, LX, DECK for cues 59 to 59.7, please."

| Q    | Page | Standby at / GO on                             | DSM calls                         | Depts        | What happens                               |
|------|------|------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|--------------|--------------------------------------------|
| 59   | p 47 | Tab in                                         | "Standby QLab 59"                 | QLAB         | Evan and Willis in armbands; BG-13 terrace |
|      | p 47 | Deck: "Clear"                                  | "QLab 59 — GO"             |              |                                            |
| 59.5 | p 49 | "I know, but it's still my royal prerogative!" | "Standby LX 59.5, QLab"           | LX QLAB      | Magical sound; SPIRIT appears              |
|      | p 49 | Willis exits; Evan alone                       | "LX 59.5, QLab — GO"       |              |                                            |
| 59.7 | p 49 | "Don't worry, Dear Evan, just play your part." | "Standby LX 59.7, QLab, Deck"     | LX QLAB DECK | Magical sound as lights dim — BLACKOUT     |
|      | p 49 | "...the voice that sings to your heart!"       | "LX 59.7, QLab, Deck — GO" |              |                                            |

SCENE TEN — THE WEDDING pp 51–54 • cues 60 to 63.5

Group standby: "Standby QLab, LX, FX, DECK for cues 60 to 63.5, please."

| Q    | Page | Standby at / GO on                              | DSM calls                   | Depts   | What happens                                           |
|------|------|-------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|---------|--------------------------------------------------------|
| 60   | p 49 | In the blackout                                 | "Standby QLab 60"           | QLAB    | The wedding outdoors (BG-20)                           |
|      | p 50 | Deck: "Clear"                                   | "QLab 60 — GO"       |         |                                                        |
| 61   | p 51 | "It's probably indigestion."                    | "Standby QLab 61, FX"       | QLAB FX | Evil chord; OCTAVIA enters in bridal costume; haze off |
|      | p 51 | "I didn't know indigestion was contagious!"     | "QLab 61, FX — GO"   |         |                                                        |
| 61.5 | p 51 | "We are here to join these two in matrimony..." | "Standby LX 61.5, QLab"     | LX QLAB | DAME and co. burst on: "Stop the wedding!"             |
|      | p 51 | "...speak now or..."                            | "LX 61.5, QLab — GO" |         |                                                        |

| Q    | Page | Standby at / GO on                                                | DSM calls                                     | Depts   | What happens                                                                                                                              |
|------|------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|---------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 62   | p 54 | "He's right. I have good reason to be fearful..."                 | "Standby QLab 62"                             | QLAB    | Magical sound; SPIRIT appears — Ariel sings a line live (p 52)                                                                     |
|      | p 54 | "...reassess every now and again."                                | "QLab 62 — GO"                         |         |                                                                                                                                           |
| 63   | p 54 | "So Marina and Godfrey, will you do the honours?"                 | "Standby QLab 63"                             | QLAB    | Song: Full Cast — S9 Absolutely Everybody follows (BG-25)                                                                                 |
|      | p 54 | "...husband and mermaid!" — everyone cheers                       | "QLab 63 — GO"                         |         |                                                                                                                                           |
| S9   |      | Straight after Q63: the track and S9.1 start on the operator's GO | "QLab S9 — GO", then section GOs to the music | QLab    | Absolutely Everybody — 7 GOs: S9.1 Intro · S9.2 Verse · S9.3 Chorus · S9.4 Verse 2 · S9.5 Bridge · S9.6 Final chorus · S9.7 Button |
| 63.5 | p 54 | Song ending                                                       | "Standby LX 63.5, Deck"                       | LX DECK | TABS CLOSE — end Scene Ten; song fades                                                                                                    |
|      | p 54 | End of song                                                       | "LX 63.5, Deck — GO"                   |         |                                                                                                                                           |

SCENE TWELVE — FINALE / BOWS p 55 • cues 64 to 65

Group standby: "Standby QLab, FOH for cues 64 to 65, please."

| Q   | Page | Standby at / GO on                                                 | DSM calls                                      | Depts       | What happens                                                                                                                          |
|-----|------|--------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|-------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 64  | p 54 | Tabs in                                                            | "Standby QLab 64, FOH"                         | QLABFOH | Bows; BG-26 tall ship — S10 He's a Pirate follows — No Scene Eleven in the script                                              |
|     | p 54 | Tabs open / bows music                                             | "QLab 64, FOH — GO"                     |             |                                                                                                                                       |
| S10 |      | Straight after Q64: the track and S10.1 start on the operator's GO | "QLab S10 — GO", then section GOs to the music | QLab        | He's a Pirate — 6 GOs: S10.1 Intro (rumble) · S10.2 Main theme · S10.3 Build · S10.4 Brass climax · S10.5 Final · S10.6 Button |
| 65  | p 55 | "So all that's left to say is..."                                  | "Standby QLab 65, FOH"                         | QLABFOH | End of show; exit music; house up                                                                                                     |
|     | p 55 | ALL: "See you again next year!" + applause                         | "QLab 65, FOH — GO"                     |             |                                                                                                                                       |

3 Holds, show stops and recovery

1. "HOLD, please. Hold." on Channel A and B. All operators freeze their current state.
2. If anyone is at risk: "QLab, safe light — GO" (E3 / Mantra P2 M10) and "QLab, stop all — GO" (E1). FOH for house lights.
3. Announcement: "Ladies and gentlemen, we're taking a short pause in the performance. Please remain in your seats and we'll continue as soon as possible. Thank you."
4. TD and DSM agree the restart cue; tell every department the cue number.
5. "Standby to restart from Q__ ... QLab __ — GO." House lights out first.

EVACUATION — FOLLOW THE VENUE PROCEDURE

"HOLD. Stop the show." QLab: E1 stop all, E3 safe light; FOH: house lights full. Make the venue's approved announcement; crew and cast leave by the agreed exits.

| Situation                | DSM action                                                                                                                             |
|--------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| An operator misses a GO  | Call it again once. If the moment has passed, go straight to the next cue.                                                             |
| Lightning / flash missed | Skip it. Never call a late flash.                                                                                                      |
| QLab down                | "LX, take it from the desk" — the operator runs the matching P2/P3/P4 memory with Next Cue; sound goes to emergency playback ch 13–14. |
| Q57b missed              | Call it as soon as Ariel is on — the HAYWIRE chase keeps running until it fires.                                                       |
| Two looks stacking       | "Hold" — operator presses O (All Cues Off) then re-fires the current cue.                                                              |
| Radio mic fails          | Sound tells DSM; Deck swaps to the spare pack at the next exit.                                                                        |
| Water or haze unsafe     | "FX, stop." Continue the dry version.                                                                                                  |

4 Script findings

- The contents page lists “Scene Eleven: On the Shore” but there is no Scene Eleven in the text: Scene Ten (pp 51–54) runs straight to Scene Twelve (p 55).
- The contents list a Scene Five song (p 33) that isn’t in the text.
- Octavia's palace entrance (p 36) comes before the cue cards (p 37), so cues 42 and 43 stay swapped.
- The water pistols spray the audience (pp 20 and 46) — Manual R-23.

|                  |
|------------------|
| Paper-tech notes |
|                  |
|                  |
|                  |
|                  |
|                  |
|                  |
|                  |
|                  |